

Herbert Kohler

Prof Dr Herbert Kohler is the Head of e-drive & Future Mobility, Chief Environmental Officer, Daimler AG. Prof. Kohler is working at Daimler since 1976. He is the founder of the “Environment, Technology, and Traffic” center in 1992, He was head of Strategic Product Planning at Development until the end of 1999. He is Honorary Professor at the University of Stuttgart since 1998. He is Head of Body and Powertrain Research 2000–2006; subsequently Director of Group Research & Advanced Engineering Vehicle and Powertrain. He is Chief Environmental Officer at Daimler since March 2002, Recipient of the B.A.U.M. Environmental Award in 2005, Head of e-drive and Future Mobility at Research and Advanced Engineering with responsibility for the development of batteries and fuel cells since 2009.

His presentation on: FC technology for mobile applications and motivation for series production of FC vehicles